

Alliance Geotechnical has committed to conducting its business ethically, with integrity and moral values, ensuring we comply with applicable legal and regulatory obligations and codes of practice. In all activities throughout the company, our goal is to remain a good corporate citizen in the industries we participate.

To achieve this objective Alliance Geotechnical

- Will not engage in corrupt business practices;
- Will implement measures to prevent bribery and corruption by any director, employee, or contractor or other party representing the company;
- Will be honest, fair and trustworthy in all business dealings and relationships,
- Will avoid conflicts between the company's interests and personal interests
- Respect and abide by our obligations to customers, suppliers, competitors, employees, contractors and the communities in which we participate.

Employees who engage in misconduct are subject to internal discipline, up to and including termination of employment, in addition to civil and criminal penalties.

Thomas Dale
Managing Director